NEGOTIATING ON COAL AND STEEL STRIKE

Premier and Clergyman Meet Executive Of The Sydney Workers Unions

Conferences Each Lasted About Three Hours and Will Be Resumed Friday—With Steel Strike Settled, the Iron Workers' Strike It Is Thought Will Soon Be Settled

SYDNEY, N.S., July 12.—(Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—The Cape Breton coal-steel strike situation reached the negotiation stage today when Premier Armstrong and Dr. Clarence MacKinnon, of Pine Hill Presbyterian College, Halifax, met with the executive of the Sydney steel workers this afternoon and with representatives of the British Empire Steel corporation tonight.

Each conference lasted about three hours, but each of the parties concerned stated that it had been decided to make no announcement at this stage. The negotiations will be resumed tomorrow.

Settlement of the steel strike appeared today to be the logical first step towards ending the present situation. A person very close to the negotiations gave it as his opinion that the steel strike would be settled within three or four days, or, failing that, it might last indefinitely—perhaps even a couple of months.

The steel strike settled, it is felt, that with those for whose support they struck back at work, no great difficulty would be found in getting the miners back in the pits and the troops out of the area about the same time.

It seemed hopeful today that in the event of their president and secretary retaining their liberty on bail, the miners would return to work pending the possible trial of their two leaders.

British Draft Reply on Reparations Will Go To Allies On Monday

Premier Baldwin's Reply Generally Well Received and Markedly So by Business Men—Most Active Criticism Likely to Come from Pro-French Sections of Parliament

LONDON, July 12.—(The government's draft of its reply to Germany on reparations, it was stated late tonight, will be submitted to the allies early next week, probably on Monday, and it is likely to give the British view favoring submission of the question of Germany's capacity to pay to an impartial tribunal provided such tribunal can be formed of a sufficiently high standing to command confidence.

A canvass of political quarters tonight showed that while Premier Baldwin's statement did not excite enthusiasm, it was generally well received and markedly so among business men. The most active criticism is likely to come from the pronounced pro-French section of the Conservative party and from the Lloyd George party. The latter party held a meeting this afternoon and condemned the statement as inadequate.

French Not Displeased.

PARIS, July 12. — Although the text of Premier Baldwin's speech in the house of commons arrived here too late to allow of official examination tonight, it was indicated among authoritative Frenchmen that the first impression in general was distinctly pleasing, particularly since the statement was apparently less severe than the French had been led to expect.

None of the official text had arrived before Premier Poincare left his office for the day, but sufficient of the press summary came to allow a number of high authorities to examine the general principles of the address. What seems to please these circles most is that they see no hint of separate action by Great Britain in dealing with Germany.

The French take as a distinctly good sign Mr Baldwin's gentle, but firm, warning to Germany not to over emphasize the importance of minor differences among the allies. They commented, however, with more reserve on the British premier's assertions concerning the inseparability of reparations and the allied debts.

The section of the statement least pleasing to the French perhaps is that in connection with the occupation of the Ruhr.

BOY RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE ON 101ST ST.

Taken to Hospital, Where Extent of Injuries Not Ascertained Last Night

At 6:00 p.m. on Thursday, William van Manner, a youth of 12 years, was the victim of a painful accident at 101st street and 103rd avenue, when he was run down by an auto driven by Joseph J. Giroux, of 10912 123rd street.

According to police reports, Mr. Giroux was driving his car north on 101st street, when at a point opposite to the southeast curb of 102nd avenue and three feet from the east curb of 101st street he saw a boy coming from 102A avenue and close to the south curb. Mr. Giroux sounded his horn, but the boy kept on, so he turned to the left across the street-car tracks. When the centre of the car tracks was reached the boy was struck by the auto.

The injured boy, who lives with his parents on 97th street on Gallagher Flats, was conveyed to the Misericordia hospital. At a late hour last night the extent and exact nature of the injuries had not been determined.

BALDWIN WAS NONCOMMITTAL ON ATTITUDE OF GREAT BRITAIN

To Submit Separate Reply to Germans But Reticent on Nature

GIVES WARNING TO FRENCH GOV'T

Regard Pronouncement as New Appeal to France to Retrace Her Steps

LONDON, July 12. — The prime minister Stanley Baldwin, in the house of commons, and Marquis Curzon, in the house of lords, to eager audiences, today made identic pronouncements on the government's policy on the reparations problem. In contrast to such statements by his predecessors, Mr Lloyd George and Mr Bonar Law, which were very lengthy, Premier Baldwin's pronouncements were particularly brief, taking about sixteen minutes for delivery and, as in neither house did the opposition offer criticism of any consequence, the momentous proceedings were quickly ended.

Question Unanswered

The question on everybody's lips—how far the British government's open disapproval of the French Ruhr policy and its holding aloof therefrom were to be converted into an active policy, separate from France—was to a great extent unanswered. Premier Baldwin certainly moved quite perceptibly away from Mr Bonar Law's attitude of passivism, inasmuch as he announced the government's decision to submit to the allies a separate reply to Germany's latest offer. But he did not give the slightest indication of the nature of the proposed reply.

This was the only important point in the pronouncement which, for the remainder, was a warning couched in the most friendly language, but plainly telling France that the British government could not much longer remain a passive spectator to a policy which threatened the economic collapse of Germany, and with it disaster to the whole of Europe.

New Appeal to France.

Taken as a whole the pronouncement seemed to be a new appeal to France to retrace her steps and come into line with all the allies in a new effort to settle the reparations problem by negotiation, instead of by military penalties. The premier was most careful to avoid any shutting of the door on renewed negotiations.

Notable points were the complete absence of any reference to the United States in connection with the negotiations and emphasizes that Italy was with England, rather than with France.

Carefully framing his pronouncement to ward off criticism from the pro-French members of the government and parliament, the premier was emphatic in declaring that Germany must be made to pay to the extent of her capacity, but he made no answer to the French demands as to what should constitute France's security in the absence of the Anglo-French-American convention, which was originally proposed to afford France security against a renewed German attack. He alluded incidentally to what was considered the pet theory of himself and Reginald McKenna that the reparations problem needs settlement in connection with the inter-allied debts but he omitted to enlarge on this point.

Clearly the British policy was developed step by step, leaving an opening to the last to France to come into line. It may be assumed that any question of calling a conference of bankers and experts to determine Germany's paying capacity will come in the proposed reply to the German offer, which made that suggestion.

No Criticism Made

There was an understanding that there should be no immediate criticism to embarrass the government, but that a separate day should be given for any debate, hence there was no discussion on the pronouncement in the commons and only a minor discussion in the house of lords.

In the upper house, Lord Birkenhead put his finger on what he regarded as the weak point when he asked what was likely to happen in the almost inevitable event of France refusing to assent to the proposed reply to Germany. Rumors have been in circulation here for the last day or so of the more amenable disposition of the Poincare government, and whether there was any foundation for the rumors the prime minister's statement evidently was designed to refrain from any language which might needlessly alarm or offend the French ally.

Viscount Grey, in the lords, also emphasized in the strongest language the urgency of preserving the Anglo-French entente.

FILLING UP THE NORTH LAND

Sheridan Lawrence of Vermilion, Peace river, returned from Winnipeg on Tuesday. Mr. Lawrence is receiving congratulations on the birth of his fifteenth child which took place in Winnipeg on June 27th. Mrs. Lawrence and the baby boy are doing well and will be in Edmonton soon on their way to Vermilion. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence are the parents of seven sons and eight daughters, all healthy and strong. The north country will not remain a lone land for long if the Lawrences do not move out.

DIED SUDDENLY ON JASPER AVE. THURSDAY EVE.

T. T. Brown Passes Away While He Was Being Taken to Physician's Office

At 8:15 p.m. on Thursday, T. T. Brown, a laborer lately residing at the North Star Rooms, died suddenly in the rear of a motor car standing in front of Dr. Boulanger's office on Jasper avenue.

According to information in the hands of the police, Brown in company with a friend, John Gustakson, went out to work on Monday last for a Mr. Pepper, who lives about three and one-half miles north of the city on 82nd street. While there Brown complained of feeling ill. On Thursday the pair were employed weeding and hoeing. In the evening they started to walk back to town, where they had stored their personal effects. For the first mile Brown complained of feeling sick and sat down by the roadside to rest on several occasions. An auto overtook them and the driver offered them a ride. This offer was accepted. Brown seemed to grow worse as the journey proceeded, and as the city was entered the party made for Dr. Boulanger's office. While the car was resting in front of the doctor's office, and before the doctor had had an opportunity of seeing Brown, the patient expired.

The body was removed to Connelly and Armstrong's parlors, where under the orders of Coroner Mowatt it will rest until an examination has been made.

The deceased is believed to have a brother residing in the United States. This belief is fostered by the finding of letters on the deceased which indicate that his brother is in the States.

GEO. CRESWELL CLAIMS HORSE BEING STOLEN

Police Recover Animal and Man in Charge Is Held for Investigation

At 5:25 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Chief of Police Shute and Constable Keating were en route to visit No. 3 station when at 117th avenue they saw a man leading a big brown horse south on 82nd street. They proceeded on to 118th avenue, where they met George Cresswell, a horse breeder residing four miles north of the city, on the Namao road, who said that the horse was his and that the man was taking it to the Great West barns without his permission, apparently stealing the animal. The chief about turned and caught up to the man and his charge at 115th avenue. The man gave his name as Mike Mazuski, who said that he was working for a man named George Barnes of Bon Accord. Mazuski further stated that he had bargained with an unknown man to take the horse to the Great West barns, and that when the man appeared the next morning he would pay to Mazuski the sum of $10 for his trouble.

Nothing was known of this transaction at the Great West barns. The horse is a purebred show horse, bred and raised by Mr. Creswell, who positively identified it as his own.

OIL DISCOVERED IN PRUSSIA

PEINE, Prussia, July 17.—Oil containing 20 percent benzine is reported to have been struck at Olberg, near here. It is stated that the wells spouted as high as the lofty boring towers when the first strike was made. The area under exploration covers 9,000 acres.

RICHARDS IS WINNER OVER 'PEG PLAYER

Vancouver Man Had Easy Win Over Western Sectional Champion

TORONTO, July 12. — The outstanding feature today at the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association's tournament was the easy win of W. H. Richards, of Vancouver, over the western sectional champion, F. E. Wright, Winnipeg. He won in straight sets 6-1, 6-2.

As the Winnipegger had beaten A. S. Milne of Vancouver, in the finals of the western section, he was thought to have a splendid chance for the title here. In Richards, however, he faced an opponent whose court generalship was superior to his own. Wright played doggedly from start to finish but he was no match for the Vancouverite, whose game impressed the large audience so much that he is now one of the favorites for the title and a place on the Davis cup team.

The match between W. S. Waugh, of Winnipeg, and Willard Crocker, was a long-drawn-out affair, the count being 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

DESCRIBES ACTION OF THE SENATE AS MONSTROUS

ESCRIBES ACTION ETC

WINNIPEG, July 12. — The action of the senate in giving the Canadian National railways branch lines bill the six months' hoist, was described as "monstruous" by Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, here today. It would be a great disappointment to many settlers throughout the west, where the lines were urgently required, he said.

FOUR INJURED AS RESULT OF COLLISION

Rev. J. Wood, Mrs. Wood and Child Injured; Mrs. H. Greenfield Also Injured

As a result of an automobile collision on Thursday afternoon at 118th avenue and the St. Albert trail, Rev. J. Wood, pastor West Edmonton Presbyterian church, Mrs. Wood, and their two-and-one-half-year-old daughter, of Calder, are in the Royal Alexandra hospital, and Mrs. H. Greenfield, of 10302 Connaught Drive, is suffering from fractured shoulder and a cut leg.

Rev. Mr. Wood, operating his Ford car, was proceeding east on 118th avenue, when crossing the St. Albert trail, Mrs. Grenefield's car, which was proceeding north, struck the Ford on the right front part of the car. The impact threw the Wood family out of their car, seriously injuring Mrs. Wood and her infant daughter, and the others to a lesser degree. They were conveyed to the hospital, where medical attendance was given by Dr. Cameron of Calder, who after a brief preliminary examination was unable to state the extent of the injuries.

The front part of the Ford car was very badly damaged, while the other car received a bent mudguard and a broken radiator.

Mrs. Greenfield was removed to her home, where she received medical attention.

ALBERTA AVENUE LEAGUE IS FOR STREET PAVING

Delegation representing the Alberta Avenue Community League waited upon Moyar Duggan Thursday to press their claim for paving in that district. The delegation which was easily one of the largest that has waited pon the Moyar for some months consisted of some twenty four men, women and children.

Mayor Duggan stated that he would submit several alternative schemes to the council next Monday and it was quite possible that something would be done in the near future to improve conditions in that district.

MAJORITY AGAINST BEER AND WINE IN MANITOBA IS 35,267

WINNIPEG, July 12.—Incomplete returns tonight gave a majority of 35,267 against the beer and wine bill in yesterday's referendum. An analysis of the vote would indicate that there will be large additions to the lead the opposition to the measure has attained.

WINNIPEG, July 12. — All labor organizations in the city will be asked to participate in a mass meeting to be held here July 19 to protest against the sending of troops into the Cape Breton strike area.

Glorious Twelth Honored by Edmonton Orangemen In Outing To Alberta Beach

Special Train of Ten Cars Carried Battle of the Boyne Celebrants to the Lake, Where Blue Waters and the Alberta Climate Were Both at Their Best

After the morning service in the 114 street Orange Hall and a parade to the C. N. R. depot ten passenger cars left for Alberta Beach at 9 a.m. Thursday, packed to the doors with the members of the Edmonton Orange lodges, their wives, families, and kith and kin generally. Judging by the number of children it is apparent that there is no race suicide in the ranks of Orangemen and in addition to a horde of small persons, six hundred paid for tickets to the beach. The rich, fruity brogues of Cork and Carrick were in evidence, and even the most casual observer could note the meaning of the outing from the flaunting banners and scarves and the universally worn yellow tags.

A hot sun and shining water drew all hands to the beach immediately and throughout the day, the youngsters in the intervals of lunches, pop, and yet more pop, disported themselves in the lake or rowed over its surface. The 49th Battalion Pipe band was present to regale the visitors with martial music on the pipes, while the kiddies of the Thistle Dancers added to the variety of the entertainment.

The sports were well managed and run on time, and from twenty five to thirty entries was the usual field, while the prizes were handed out immediately after each race, which appeared to occasion general satisfaction.

Speakers of the Day.

The speakers of the day were the Rev. O. D. Priddie and the Rev. Canon Carruthers, who were introduced by John Esler. Mr Priddie in his address traced the struggles of individuals for emancipation and freedom from the days of Judah up to the present time, stating that there were influence which were endeavoring to bend and hold the people down, to aid and assist whom was one of the reasons for the existence of the Orange Order. "Organized effort can do what legislation cannot" said the speaker, "and for this reason the Orange Order has a real place in the life of the country." He concluded by saying that we are living in a land which is plastic and changeable and that we must all stand firmly together for good Canadian citizenship and loyalty to the nation.

Canon Carruthers.

Canon Carruthers, who spoke but very briefly, was as usual sincere and straight from the shoulder in his remarks. He commenced by saying that if he were not an Orangeman on this date that he would feel ashamed of himself, but both he, his father and grandfather were members of the Order, which he characterized as one of the oldest societies in the world. He traced what Orangeism had done for Canada since the wearers of the yellow scarves had upset the Fenian rebellion, their part in the Riel rebellion and in the later strife, when of the first contingent who went to the Great War three quarters were Orangemen.

"The Orange Order is the watchdog of the Protestant Faith" said the speaker. "It stands for what our forefathers died for and it must never be allowed to wane." He then touched on the emigration from the Dominion and handed out some home truths in respect to the men who were willing to leave the Dominion "for the sake of a dollar or two a day." The men who died in France and Flanders did not give up their lives for the sake of money; they died for Canada and civilization, and when Canadians leave Canada "they break faith with those who lie in Flanders' Fields" said the Canon. He concluded by stating that the Orange Order was not a political society, that what the members believed in was liberty, equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

With the return of the train from the beach, which arrived in the city at 8.30 p.m. the Orangemen formed up and marched to the 114th street hall where the day's pleasures were suitably terminated by a dance which lasted well on towards morning.

FRANK FORD TO BE SPECIAL COUNSEL ON FREIGHT RATES

Frank Ford, K.C., has been appointed by the provincial government to act as special counsel for Alberta in the appeal before the privy council of the British Columbia government against the freight rates decision of the railway commission. The hearing is set for August 9. Mr Ford will be accompanied to Ottawa by A. Chard, provincial freight and traffic supervisor.

British Columbia is asking for the removal of the coast differential so that prairie rates may apply on freight hauls to and from coast points as well as to points this side of the moutains. Alberta is giving its support to this appeal and is adding a request of its own that the commodity rates from the East already enjoyed by British Columbia may apply to this province.

WOMAN SHOT BY HUSBAND IN ACCIDENT

Mrs Katrina Kot, wife of Max Kot of the Thorhild district, has been brought into the Misericordia hospital suffering from a gunshot wound, which was apparently caused by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of her husband. According to the story told by her husband and which the police believe is true, the accident happened as the husband was climbing a fence with a loaded gun to shoot a hawk. The gun slipped, fell to the ground and was discharged. The woman was in front and received the full charge in her hip. The husband gave her such treatment as he could and then, still bleeding profusely, she was brought by wagon and rail to the hospital.

C.P.R. PARTY IS MAKING TOUR OF THE WEST

With a personally conducted party of British tourists who are the first to take advantage of the new system of the C. P. R. European all expense tour, E. McKenzie of the European passenger department of the C. P. R., London, England, was in Edmonton Thursday. They remained here during the morning and left at noon for Calgary and then on to the coast. The scheme is something similar to the famous Cook's tours only that the company takes a lump sum and provides everything in the way of transportation costs that are required by the passengers.

Included in this party are: Mr and Mrs. Thornton; the Very Reverend Canon Hennely; Miss C. W. Mills, J. Sutton, and Dr. Harold Larkin.

They are mostly Yorkshire people and are delighted with the trip which they state is quite unque and a welcome change from the usual one to Switzerland or other European resort.

The entire trip is over C. P. R. lines and on C. P. R. steamships, and the idea has already caught on to such an extent, that two other parties will make the same run before the end of the season, while it is anticipated that next year, the traffic will increase to a very considerable volume, when the returned tourists tell their friends of the many things to be seen in the wonderland of Canada.

The St. John Country

Historic Fort Removed to New Site—C. C. Sinclair Back from Trip to the North

C. C. Sinclair district manager of the H.B.Co. returned this week from a trip on the Peace river on the gas boat Weenusk, that extended from the Chutes to Hudson's Hope. From Vermilion Mr. Sinclair brought stalks of fall wheat that were fully headed out on July 1st. All the farm crops are looking well at Vermilion; there has been plenty of rain and no setbacks. Garden roses were in bloom on the experimental station, managed for the Dominion government by Mr. Jones.

Chief engineer James of the C.P.R. came up from Vermilion on the Weenusk. He had travelled by land from Peace river town west and north of the Peace by way of Keg river prairie and the Paddle river trail. Needless to say he did not disclose the railway plans of the C.P.R.

During his upstream trip Mr. Sinclair arranged for the removal of the post of Ft. St. John from the historic site on the low bank of the Peace to the plateau 800 feet above. The new post will be located at the trail crossing of Fish creek, the outlet of Charlie lake some eight miles north of the old site. The removal has been made chiefly to accommodate the large number of new setlers who have taken homesteads in the region north and northwest of the Fort. The settlers and their families are said to number from 400 to 500. Mohean's ranch is 20 miles north of the old Fort site and the country between is well filled up. The soil is black and rich and then there is a splendid growth of vegetation, poplar woods and prairie are interspersed with some spruce amongst the poplar. One draw-back is the scarcity of surface water. Many of the settlers put up ice from Charlie lake. A school is conducted in the settlement, the teacher is Mrs. K. Easton, formerly of the Clover Bar Nurseries. The new H. B. store is located on her homestead.

On Pine river are the trails from St. John to Nelson and about 70 miles from St. John a trader named Pilfer is established. The telegraph office on the government line to Hudsons Hope is about 3 1-2 miles south of St. John.

Mr. Beaton, at one time of Dunvegan is in charge of St. John and J. Mooney of Hudson's Hope.

EVERYBODY IN CALGARY GETS EXHIBITION SPIRIT; GOOD SHOWING LIVESTOCK

Cow Town of Alberta Lets Itself Loose for One Grand, Glorious Week—Ride Horses into the Palliser and Other Harmless Pleasures

Well advertised and well organized, the Calgary summer fair was away to a good start, and the finishing touch was a change of heart on the part of the weather man, which brought bright hot weather instead of the intermittent showers of the past month. With all these ingredients, the fair was well begun and the opening day brought out a record first-day crowd, followed by similar big crowds on the following days. There was a splendid showing of stock, especially cattle, and the program included a real old-time stampede, which was especially attractive to the people of the "Cow Town on the Valley of the Bow." Although southern Alberta is rapidly changing from a country of ranches to a country of farms, the old-timers still cling to the old traditions, and the spirit with which the present generation fell in with the preparations for the Stampede would indicate that they have inherited the taste also. There was nothing left out of the stampede program which was put on by Guy Weadick, from broncho busting to riding wild steers and milk wild cows. The Stampede undoubtedly attracted the crowd and made a financial success, to the credit of Manager E. L. Richardson and the directors of the Calgary fair.

Everybody Full of "Pep"

The town was en fete for the week, and with the unanimous consent of one hundred per cent. of the business men on the main business streets of the city, no automobiles were allowed there for the entire week—only ponies, or saddle horses, chuck wagons and such like. After several lean years, when drouths, crop failures, financial stringency, grasshopper plagues, there is the promise this year of a crop such as has never been harvested in the histoyr of the country, and Western optimism quickly responded to the changed conditions.

The fair was formally opened on Monday by Premier Greenfield. That morning there had been one of the most spectacular parades that had ever been seen in Calgary, which is accustomed to such scenes and which was witnessed by a crowd estimated to be close to 25,000 people.

Everyone from the mayor to the cowboys were costumed for the week in pink, green, orange or purple shirts of the most vivid hue, and neckerchiefs quite as loud in their coloring, with regular cowboy Stetson hats. Added to this the Indians in their most magnificent robes, and brilliant beaded blankets and bridles on their horses, the scene was colorful to say the least, and picturesque.

In addition to the parade, there was entertainment every morning on the main street of the city, from which all motor cars had been banished for the entire week. Generous prizes were given for best costumes suitable to the occasion, best old-time vehicles and equipment, best dressed squaw, best half-breed fiddler and such like, the judging taking place on Eighth avenue. In the midst of this, it was no uncommon thing for the riders to ride their horses into the cafes, as in the old frontier days, and one morning two riders rode unconcernedly into the big rotunda of the Palliser hotel and around among the loungers.

Judging of stock started Tuesday morning, when the outstanding feature was the display of Holstein and Shorthorn cattle. The Aberdeen Angus was also a splendid exhibit. While the Hereford entries were comparatively small in numbers, there were some splendid animals shown, including international winners.

Few Draft Horses

The horses were rather a disappointment in the way of numbers, the shortage of feed during the past winter in many sections accounting for this, and with the big acreage that was put in this spring, most of the draft horses have been too busy on the farms to be kept in show condition. The saddle entries were splendid, however, 15 to 20 being shown in some of the classes. While the cattle classes were considerably augmented by outside entries, from the States and Eastern Canada, the horse entries were all local. Sheep and swine classes were good, but not so large as in some previous years. There is a definite trend in the swine entries toward the bacon breeds, both in the purebred and the commercial classes.

Cattle

In the Shorthorn classes the noticeable feature was the excellence of the females throughout, and the splendid condition in which the junior classes were shown. The young classes were a pleasure to see. The Shorthorn exhibitors, including W. C. Short, Edmonton, who made a wonderful showing against strong competition both from within and without the province; Campbell and Amos, Moffat, Ontario; L. A. Bowes, Calgary; J. Charles Yule, Carstairs, Alta.; T. A. Russell, Downsview, Ontario. William Sharpe, Lacombe, was the judge.

In the bull classes the firsts were taken by Campbell and Amos, with the exception of the senior calf class where Charles Yule won with a calf sired by his herd bull Craven Knight. The grand champion was also the junior champion Butterfly King. Reserve grand going to Meadow Lawn Favorite, the senior champion, both belonging to Campbell and Amos. The best bull classes were the junior yearlings and the senior calves.

William Short, Edmonton, won the senior and grand championship of the Shorthorn females with his beautiful cow Diamond Maid S. Russell took junior and reserve grand championship with Emma 64, and Short took reserve junior with Forest Brook Clara and reserve senior went to Campbell and Amos with Flower Girl 6th, spreading the championships around fairly well.

The group classes were well filled. In the get-of sire, Short was first with three, the get of Meadow Lawn Diamond, Russell second and Yule third. In progeny of cow, Short was again first, Yule second and third. For three calves bred and owned by exhibitor, Russell was first, Yule second, Campbell and Amos third and fourth. Campbell and Amos took first for senior herd, Yule second and Bowes third. Russell took first in junior herd, Campbell and Amos second, and Yule third.

Herefords

O. A. Boggs of Daysland, Frank Collicutt of Crossfield, and Curtis Cattle company were the Hereford exhibitors, with no outside competing herds. Alberta Panama, the splendid bull that has achieved international fame for the Boggs firm, took the grand championship and senior championship, and his Alberta Panama 3rd, senior yearling, won the junior championship and reserve grand. Boggs' Dudley Panama, two year old, took the reserve senior, and Collicutt's Gay Lad 254, winner of the junior yearling class, won the reserve junior championship.

In the Hereford females, Boggs was again the big winner, taking the senior and grand championship with his Panama Lady 2nd, reserve senior with Panama Lady 3rd, and reserve junior championship with Columbus Panama 2nd. Frank Collicutt won the junior championship and reserve grand with Willow Spring Gay Lass 264. Boggs and Collicutt divided the group classes, Collicutt winning the senior and junior herd and calf herd, and Boggs taking the get of sire, progeny of cow and also the Canadian Breeders' championships for his bull and champion cow.

Dairy Cattle

In a country where the dairy breeds are only beginning to come into prominence, it was a common remark around the cattle ring of the wonderful improvement in numbers and quality in the dairy show this year, but the majority of the exhibitors were from outside the province, the C.P.R. demonstration farms at Strathmore having to uphold the honors for Alberta. The others, most of whom are new on the Western circuit, were Fred and E. Hilliker, Norwick, Ontario; W. J. Elgie, Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario; Corwin Farms, Rock Valley, Iowa; J. M. Steves and Sons, Stevenson, B.C.; Rogers & Co. Ltd., Lethbridge. There were large entries in nearly every class, especialy the females. Hilliker won the senior and grand championship and the C.P.R. won the reserve senior, the junior championship and reserve and the reserve grand.

In the females, the first placings were fairly evenly distributed among the various exhibitors. Elgie won the senior and grand championship with the cow Ourvilla Petunia Mercedes. Reserve senior, which was also reserve grand champion, was shown by Steves; Corwin Farms won the junior championship, with the C.P.R. Farms reserve.

When the Holstein herds came out, the ring was fairly bulging to hold all the animals, and the prize money was well distributed, the C. P. R. farm showing up well in these breeders' classes. They took first and second for graded herd, second and third for junior herd (first place going to Corwin farms), first and third for four calves under one year, second place going to Elgie; and first, second and sixth for get of sire.

Ayrshires

There was a good showing of Ayreshires by Roland Ness, De Winton, Alta.; C. H. Kennedy, Calgary; Edwin A. Wells, Sardis, B.C., the prizes being fairly well distributed, an indication that the competition was keen. Wells won the senior and grand championship for bulls with Alta Crest Monskid, and Roland Ness won the junior and reserve grand with Lakeview Sir Oliver. In the females Wells won the senior and grand championship with Springburn Mischief, while his three year old cow Bonalee's Lassie won the reserve grand championship.

Horses

In the Clydesdales there was a special interest from the competition of the fillies from the Prince of Wales ranch. His yearling filly Balcairn Ringlet won the grand championship of the breed, forcing Norman Weir's senior champion Rosetta of Kilallan to the reserve placing. The Prince's filly is a beautifully built beast, fairly dark in coloring and constructed on approved Clydesdale lines. There was some criticism for putting a yearling, which has still to show what she can do, over the older mare, but judging by present appearance the judge felt he could not do otherwise. The Prince was also first in the two year old female class. While the Clydesdales were comparatively few in number, there was good competition in most of the classes.

In the stallions, Webster Hugo Stamp won first place in a class of four aged stallions, but lost out for the championship to Will Moodie's Baron Elcho. For three progeny of stallion, James Harridence, of Langdon, won first and second with get of Scottish Crown, and he also had the prize for team of mares. Lawrence Rye, of Edmonton, who was to have given him competition in this class, did not come.

Percherons

In the Percherons, the chief exhibitors were W. H. Devine, Calgary; W. H. Branson and Sons, Knee Hill Valley; W. H. Stretch, Ponoka; J. A. Neilson, Calgary. Devine won the championship with his aged stallion Oloronm, reserve going to Branson with Dempsey.

Championship for mares went to Neilson with Wanita, reserve being Jessica, shown by W. H. Stretch.

Dr. S. F. Tolmie judged the Percherons, Belgians, standard breds and carriage horses.

Sheep Exhibits

Shropshires and Suffolks were probably the outstanding classes in the sheep, although the Oxfords were also good but with more tailenders than in the first-mentioned breeds. There was also a good display of goats.

In the Shropshires the principal exhibitors were Archie McEwen, of Brantford, Ont.; H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, John Wilson, Innisfail, Ralph Hambly, Ponoka; F. W. Gurney, Paris, Ont. The championship for rams went to the Prince of Wales, reserve to Wilsons and the order was just reversed in the ewes.

In the Oxfords, the exhibitors included George Ball and Sons, Edmonton; A. M. Olson, Airdrie; Ralph Hambly, Ponoka. Ball had some very nice sheep in and took the female championship with Olsen second, and Olsen also took the ram championship.

In the Suffolks there were entries by the Vauxhall Stock Farms, Medicine Hat, Clarindale Stock Farm, Vauxhall, with three entries in nearly every class. The Clarendale Farms took championship for rams and the Vauxhall Farms took the ewe ribbon.

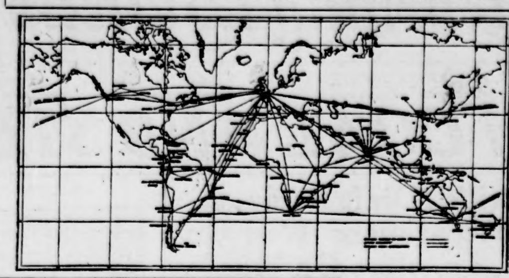
In the mutton class for shearlings, first place went to John Wilson, Jr., second to Ball, third to the Prince of Wales. In the lamb class, Clarendale Stock Farm took first, Olsen second. For pen of three shearlings, Ball was first and the Prince of Wales second.

Swine

Swine classes were good, especially in the Berkshires and Yorkshires. Guy Herbert was showing some splendid type Berkshires—lengthy and conforming to the type that the market is demanding now. He took the championships, J. J. Devine of Carstairs getting reserve for boar.

In the Tamworths, the only exhibitor was the Cloverlea Seed and Stock Farm, Edmonton, which had a full classification. Ralph Hambly was the only exhibitor of Duroc Jerseys. Yorkshire exhibitors included J. E. Brethour and nephew, Burford, Ont.; Grotto Stock Farm, De Winton Alta.; A. M. Olson, Airdrie; E. G. May, Calgary, G. R. Ball and Sons, Donald M. Webster, Lacombe. Brethour took all the championships.

A GREAT BRITISH RADIO SERVICE



LONDON, July 2—Great Britain's immense scheme for linking all its dominions by radio may be completed within 12 months.

This news is important not only in the development of radio communication, but in the closer union of the world's greatest empire by air.

For several years, leaders in British foreign affairs have been contemplating just such a system of intercommunication among the dominions and possessions of Great Britain. The shops of the greatest maritime country in the world weren't enough to tie the interests of all these varying nationalities into one. So they are resorting to radio

And radio promises to accomplish what they desire.

That is, an empire "upon which the sun never sets" with many varying interests and ideals combined under one major influence of a united nation.

Trunk Lines Up

Already trunk radio lines have been strung from London to its important dominions and colonies. They radiate from the capital of the empire in a huge semi-circle to the east, the west and south, crisscrossing and interlocking until a map of these lines looks like a Chinese puzzle.

Powerful transmitting and receiving stations are in operation and more are contemplated so that London may bring cities as far off as Melbourne, 9300 miles away, within an hour or so of communication with it. Not only London, but any other important center of the British Empire is being placed into position so as to make communication between it and another British city speedy and easy.

For example, Vancouver, important British port on the Pacific, can communicate with Melbourne direct across the Pacific, although another line of communication to Melbourne is through Manchester and London.

In England, Manchester and London are made the central exchanges of this vast system of intercommunication. Manchester controls most of the lines of North America, while the lines from London go to South America, Africa, Asia and Australia.

Further Plans

Besides, more lines of communication are planned. Such for instance as a direct line from London to Peking and Tokio. At present, London reaches these oriental cities by relaying through Vancouver. The new line would shorten the distance by more than one-half and would save considerable time.

In India, lines are contemplated to join Madras to the important inner centers. Similar plans are being worked out for Africa and Australia.

Besides these extensions, which have already been planned, more complete services are under consideration. In Canada, Edmonton, Montreal, Winnipeg and other important cities will be linked by radio. Similar links will be arranged for South American cities, even though they are not within the British empire.

A direct line between London and Kingston, Jamaica, is also under consideration.

The whole work of bringing together this vast realm, besides other important points of the world, is being undertaken by the Marconi company here. According to officials of the company, all the main lines are expected to be working within 12 months. As soon as this is accomplished, they say, every important center of the empire will be within wireless communication with every other part of the empire and with the rest of the world.

Then, it is planned further, will come the work of erecting smaller stations throughout the empire, to branch off from these important centers.

It is the greatest plan for world intercommunication ever contemplated.

STAVE LOCK SILO NEW ENTERPRISE FOR EDMONTON

Ensilage is a big question in the stock raising game in this country. The cost of the silo prevents many men from expanding their herds, therefore every effort to cheapen the silo is to be looked on with favor, always provided results are satisfactory.

On Thursday afternoon Premier Greenfield and a number of other gentlemen interested in the progress of the district were given an opportunity to see a demonstration of the new stave lock silo at the W. H. Clark & Co. factory. The silo is built on an entirely new principle. Instead of the usual vertical stones with iron bands, the new silo is built on the big cabin principle. Pieces of two inch plank are cut of even length and dressed with heavy tongue and grove. At each end a nick is cut which makes it possible for the planks to be built into an eight cornered tank of any height and content desired without the use of hoops or nails. The pieces of plank fit into each other on the same principle as the logs of a house, but the shape of the nicks at the ends of the planks makes them hold firmly and be sufficiently water tight for the purposes of the silo. The planks are all cut of the same size and pattern and are absolutely interchangeable. Skilled labor is not required in the erection of the silo. So many pieces of plank will make a silo so high and having such and such a content. The silo can be built up as high as the owner pleases and therefore may be built of limited capacity and at limited cost if that is considered desirable.

The Stave Lock Silos, Ltd., is the Edmonton invention, also the machine which cuts the nicks that locks the planks together near their ends.

The Stave Lock Silos, Ltd., is the name of the manufacturing firm. Their slogan is "No nails, build a piece as a test."

SASKATOONS RIPEN

Saskatoons are beginning to ripen throughout the Edmonton district. On Thursday several reports were received to the effect that ripe saskatoon berries had been seen in several sections. The berries this year are large and plentiful. This is due to the fact that there has been plenty of rain to meet all requirements this season.

New Empire

"THE PURPLE MASK"

But three opportunities remain to see "The Purple Mask" at the New Empire theatre when Miss Vera Pelton, Lee C. Millar and the Allen Players will be seen in a capital rendition of Matheson Lang's famous drama tonight and Saturday night and matinee. From the week's that have been in attendance at every performance all Edmonton seems to have been imbued with a desire to see the play in which Miss Pelton and Mr. Millar enjoyed such prominence during their long road tour with the Leo Dietrichstein company, and reservations have been exceptionally heavy for the remainder of the week. During the nineteen months the Allen Players have been before Edmonton public, they have never presented a play that hit the popular fancy to such an extent as the current attraction.

"The Purple Mask" deals with the efforts of the royalists to place the Comte de Provence—called by his supporters Louise the Eighteenth—on the throne of France. They were hated by the republicans and spurned by the secret agents of Napoleon, and their lives were, to say the least, thrilling. The aristocrats, who had been deprived of their fortune, did not hesitate to hold up state coaches, robbing, not for private gain, but to secure funds to further their cause. It is with a little band of these royalists, living in disguise in Paris, that "The Purple Mask" deals, and nothing more exciting and mystifying has ever been seen on the Edmonton stage.

As a special attraction for exhibition week, Manager P. R. Allen has selected "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," which is the stage version of the famous novel by the same name. This is an ideal vehicle for the summer months and one that will appeal to the numerous visitors that Edmonton expects to entertain next week.

Pantages

THE PASSING PARADE.

That Edmonton fully appreciates the opportunity to see a high class vaudeville unit show is proven by the crowds in attendance at the Pantages theatre this week where "The Passing Parade" is playing an engagement that will in all probability set a new house record. "The Passing Parade", making its Canadian premiere in Edmonton, arrived with the personal endorsement of Eddie Milne, general manager of the Pantages circuit, who stated unqualifiedly that it was the very best attraction that had ever been booked over the time. Theatregoers who have already witnessed the show are unanimous in stating that Mr Milne is batting up around 1,000 when it comes to making predictions.

Along Broadway Fred Ardath, comedian par excellence, is an universal favorite. It is not often that Mr. Ardath strays away from the vicinity of 42nd street, but he could not resist the attractive offer made by Alexander Pantages, and is featured in "The Passing Parade." Mr. Ardath has the able assistance of Betty Byron, a diminutive comedienne who conceals a vast amount of cleverness in her small stature. Miss Byron is a fine singer and clever dancer and has won a place for herself in the estimation of Pantages patrons of prober right in the musical comedy revue in Sammy Weston, a master of saxophony, who not only appears in the headline attraction, but heads a dancing specialty that is going over big.

There are forty persons in the revue which is in nine sumptuous scenes and carries a Broadway beauty chorus. The company carries two carloads of scenery and costumes and the entire production is on a scale that often calls for $2.50 admission. Popular prices are being charged here, Mr. Pantages being eager to convince Edmonton that he is ready to supply the biggest and best attractions in the vaudeville bill at the regular Pantages scale of admission. Two performances will be given daily of "The Passing Parade" for the remainder of the week, the usual popular matinee for children being given on Saturday afternoon. Reservations should be made immediately for the evening shows as the demand for seats has been of record dimensions.

Allen

REPLICA OF POLICE STATION

It seems that New York has no patent on the Mulberry St. Police Station.

After all the years too, it has been one of the show places that ballyhoo busses pass when taking sightseers about Manhattan.

Yet now its nose it distinctly out of joint, because Los Angeles has a duplicate that would bewilder even the most frequent occupant of the original brick for brick, window for window and desk for desk. Even the uniforms are the same color and cut.

In fact it is a replica of the New York police department when located in Mulberry street, carried out with a perfection of detail that is, all due to the Joseph M. Schenck Productions's art director Frank Ormsteen, who copied it for Norma Talmadge's present vehicle "Within the Law," which Frank Lloyd directed as a First National picture. The photo drama is being shown at the Allen today and Saturday.

From the inspector's window of this set ran two flights of prison cells in the rear, where the innocent heroine of the Talmadge silver success, as played by Norma Talmadge, is convicted of a crime she did not commit, while in the Mulberry ... station set is one of the most difficult, if not the, that is receiving considerable attention from producers all over the country.

Empress

A village situated at the foot of a mountain, the sides of which are covered with a mass of ice and snow is about to suffer an avalanche of ice reposing at the base of an active volcano. Any minute a great mass of frozen matter may come tumbling down the mountain side and destroy the village and its inhabitants.

Such is the precarious position of the village of La Paix in the Paramount picture, "The Snow Bride," starring Alice Brady and showing at the Empress today, Saturday and Monday. By some miracle of Providence this little town has been spared for over a century from destruction by the glacial torrents of the North country, but as the film opens the thrilling picture, the entire mountain side is brought down in a storm that lasts for days. When it is over the inhabitants emerge from the nearby woods where they have taken refuge to find that La Paix is no more. Not a thing lives under that blanket of snow.

FORMER EDITOR OF MacLEAN'S DIES AT GRAVENHURST, ONT.

GRAVENHURST, Ont., July 12.—Britton B. Cooke, aged 52, well known newspaper man and an author and playwright of unusually brilliant promise, died yesterday at the Calydor Sanitarium near here. Ill-health interfered from time to time with his writing activities but in spite of this he managed to go to England and France as a war correspondent.

Mr. Cooke is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Jean Dewar of Vancouver, and two little sons and a daughter.

BOY TO PROTECT FORESTS.

OTTAWA, July 12.—One hundred and forty thousand Canadian school boys have been handed into an army of guards to watch for and prevent forest fires in the Dominion this year, according to an announcement made by the Canadian Forestry Association.

The new organization, which is known as the Young Canadians Forest League, will, it is expected, save several million dollars worth of timber from fire ravages.

FINE VIOLINS

PRAGUE, July 12.—Favored by a natural love of music, a plentiful supply of the right kind of resonant wood, and deft craftsmanship, the violin making industry in Czechoslovakia is assuming an important position.

Something like 4,800 home workers are engaged in the industry, all are of high quality. One hundred and thirty-three thousand violins were turned out in 1922, besides 2,150 cellos and 1,200 double basses.

By JACK JUNKMEYER

HOLLYWOOD, June 28.—Jackie Coogan's fine intuition for pathetic feeling is attested to remarkable degree in "Circus Days," his latest picture, scheduled for late June release.

While the production falls considerably short of the great film it might have been, it provides young Coogan with rich opportunities to demonstrate the scope of his artistic genius in the role of "Toby Tyler," a runaway who joins a traveling show and twists the tail of a sterling fate.

"Toby's" mother is a widow in her sister's country home. He is the target for his irascible uncles, dislike. Virtually kicked out, he falls in with a circus as peanut boy—a hungry vagrant of the tents, surrounding threatened punishments, yearning for affection, chasing rainbows in a wistful world, the quintessence of pliable youth scampering dutifully before the somber backdrop of circumstances making you laugh when you want to weep and vice versa.

The permanence of the picture spoke to the full Jackie pantomimic eloquence. From the peaks of sheer amusement he flips to heart tugs, the high art of clowning, with a surrender which even Chaplin might not excel in feeling, if in technique.

Some of the credit goes to Edward Cline, the director, most of it to the boy.

The tide of laughter reaches its crest in the scene where Toby's pinch bile for the little bareback rider for whom he has developed a sentimental attachment and who because of an injury preventing her appearance is about to lose her job.

Coogan, disguised as the girl, trying to ride the horse and spraling wildly from the safety wire, irresistible. Some of the circus crowd through whose wit, is hilariously funny. The short patter stage accessories, turned the stage into a circus.

the impending lash of his uncle, softens the wrath momentarily through the proffer of the old man's pipe and tobacco.

Conversion of good intentions to consequences, nag "Toby" through six reels of shrieks and sniffs. He helps his mother, portrayed by Barbara Tennant, wipe the dishes and gets whipped for a cup he breaks. He tries to please his uncle, Russel Simpson, by helping him off with his boots and topples a china rack. He pitches a horseshoe for luck and smashes a window. Those indicate the nature of the "gags," many of which Jackie himself manufactures.

Coogan lugs most of the picture on his shoulders. The older actors are a bit stodgy, bromide, some of them none too well cast. Peaches Jackson as the barback performer, Claire McDowell, the aunt, and Frank Orsatti, the clown, help whom "Toby" forms benevolent alliance, bear support to Coogan's alliance, best supplement Jackie's sparkling performance.

Director Cline, it seems to me, missed a chance to make the portrayal of Otis "Toby Tyler" an epic of circus life as it was a generation ago. The savor of the old roaming travelling circus, creaking along dusty roads and magicking the folk of small towns out of dull routine, will be missed by grown-up boys who once toted water for the elephants and thrilled to the misery of the bearded sweating behemoth.

But kids will go wild about it. I saw "Circus Days" first showing at a neighborhood theatre packed to the rafters, and the youngsters fairly raised the roof.

The screen version of "Six Cylinder Love," being filmed by William Fox, will contain the celebrated diamond horseshoe scene in The Music Box Revue, it was announced yesterday by Miss Clifton, director, aided in this number by Chester Conklin, former stage accessories, turned the stage into a studio.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle Considers Jasper Park an Ideal Holiday Resort

"I have travelled in twenty-three countries and I have never seen a more ideal place for a holiday or a more comfortable Hotel than Jasper Lodge." This is the written opinion of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and seems to be the unanimous verdict of all who have holidayed in Jasper Park.

To many people a holiday means a complete relaxation, to others it means recreation and amusement. Thus at Jasper may be found enjoyment which will satisfy every mood. Prominent Edmontonians, who have recently visited Jasper Park, claim that "Jasper is a haven of rest, the Paradise of Alberta."

Jasper Park is becoming more and more a starting point for hunting and exploring expeditions. This week a party of ninety sportmen leave for a six weeks' journey into the mountains.

Many small parties from the Lodge have embarked upon fishing trips to Buffalo Prairie, the Malyne Lake and the beautiful Medicine Lake.

On Tuesday a party of American tourists registered at the Lodge. While guests at the Park, they were escorted along the beautiful motor highway to the various points of interest, namely, Mount Edith Cavell, Pyramid Lake and the Great Maligne Gorge. The personnel of the party included Miss Adalene Hardisty, Columbus Ohio, Mr and Mrs T. N. Thomas, Columbus, Ohio, Miss Mary Thomas, Columbus, Ohio, Miss M. A. Long, Columbus, Ohio, Miss Ann Berkeley, Columbus, Ohio, Miss Florine Berkeley, Columbus Ohio, Miss Helene Moir, Duluth, Mich., Mr Henry Ritter, Evansville, Ind., Mr Joseph Moorman, Cincinnati, Ohio, Mr James Hennigan, Cincinnati, Ohio. The party left Jasper on Thursday, en route to Prince Rupert, Stewart, B.C., Hyder, Alaska, Vancouver, Seattle, Edmonton, Calgary, Banff, Port Arthur, via the Great Lakes to Detroit.

Miss Catherine Edes of New York arrived in Jasper, on Saturday and is spending a few days on Lake Edith, the guest of Mrs C. A. Bremner, before joining the Sutherland expedition, which leaves shortly for the Columbia Ice Fields.

Mrs C. A. Bremner entertained at a delightful tea on Saturday in honor of Miss N. Williams, of Ottawa. Among the guests were Colonel and Mrs Maynard Rogers, Mrs A. E. Lloyd, Mrs R. Mills, Mrs E. Townbridge, of Edmonton, and Master Bobbie Mills.

Mr and Mrs W. A. Brown of Edmonton, have opened their summer cottage on lake Edith and have as their guests Mrs Bob Brown, of Edmonton.

SHORTS

SATIN HATS

The newest black satin hats are very plain, relieved only by soft frills of lace or tulle, but they are tremendously effective.

WIDE BERTHA

For the girl with narrow shoulders to carry it, nothing is more lovely than the wide pleated bertha, worn over the sleeveless frock, giving the effect of a pleated cape over the sleeve.

NEW HATS

Many of the newest hats show feathers or ribbon bows directly in front. The poke shape is very stylish.

ENVELOPE PURSES

Very flat envelope purses, sometimes a foot long and nearly half as wide, are carried under the arm by the smart Parisienne.

TAPESTRY COAT FROCK

A novelty in Paris is the coat dress made of tapes. It is a wrap-around model, showing a lining of green that harmonizes with the green in the dress fabric.

FANCY SWEATERS

White wool sweaters are adorned with bands of cross-stitching in the gayest of colors, that decorate the cuffs and hems and sometimes the belts.

Cold Salmon

By BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH
Of Columbia University

For a warm night cold fish such as salmon makes a delicious and satisfying main dish.

For a family of six or eight, buy a piece of salmon weighing two or three pounds. Place in two quarts cold water to which has been added a tablespoon vinegar, half a tablespoon salt, one small sliced onion and a sprig of parsley. Bring quickly to the boil, then simmer until salmon comes away easily from the bone.

Remove from water, take out bones and remove skin. Chill, and at summer time, cover with mayonnaise, and garnish with cold cooked green peas which have been dressed with oil, vinegar, pepper and salt.

Note.—If mayonnaise is not enjoyed by the family, a cooked dressing may be used instead.

AT BOARD OF TRADE

Hon. Charles Stewart is to be the guest of honor and special speaker at the board of trade luncheon Friday noon. The luncheon will be in the board of trade rooms and is being given as a mark of appreciation for the efforts put forth in securing the terminal elevator for Edmonton.

AN INTIMATE STORY OF INNERMOST EMOTIONS REVEALED IN PRIVATE LETTERS
Copyright 1923—NEA Service Inc.

I want to ask you, gay little Marquise, if ever in your brilliant and interesting life you had anything that seemed quite as much like one of those coincidences with which fate overpowers one as did that unexpected visit of Karl Whitney's?

Although neither John's mother nor Priscilla Bradford had said anything directly, I felt as though in some way they connected that string of pearl beads with Karl Whitney. Perhaps it was because I could not get it out of my head either that he was in some way connected with them that I grew faint and I knew I was very pale when his name was announced.

"How strange," said Mrs. Prescott, "that a man should call upon you at this late hour."

"It isn't a man," I broke in impetuously; "it's Karl Whitney!" And I went to the door to meet him.

Because they had been so insinuating and suspicious, I know that I greeted Karl much more warmly than I would have done otherwise, and besides I, too, was rather curious about him coming.

"What is the matter?" I asked. "Isn't everyone well?"

"I think so," answered Karl, "but I had business in the city which is just beyond this little town and as I had received a wireless from Alice today I thought I would stop and tell you about it."

"Come in. I want to introduce you to John's mother."

Karl followed me into the room and you can imagine my surprise and anger, gay little Marquise, when we went from the hall to the sitting room, to find that neither Mrs. Prescott nor Priscilla were there.

It was the most deliberate insult I have ever encountered in my life. Mrs. Prescott's bedroom is directly off the living room and I went to the door which I noticed had been left ajar. I rapped with such violence that it opened fully and disclosed the two women standing in the middle of the room.

"Come and meet my childhood friend Karl Whitney. Karl, I want you to know Mrs. Prescott."

"Are you sure, Mrs. Prescott, that you are able to meet visitors," spoke up Priscilla Bradford.

At that I saw red. "Please allow Mrs Prescott to be her own judge, Miss Bradford, as to whether she will deliberately insult her son's wife or follow the nasty back-biting, suspicious program that you have laid out for her ever since my marriage."

"Leslie, Leslie, what do you mean?" said Mrs. Prescott, her eyes flashing.

"I mean exactly what I say. That woman has always wanted to marry your son and she has spied upon me ever since I was married. She has turned my most innocent acts into something sinister in your mind."

"Did John show you my last letter?"

"No, he did not, but I know her well enough to know exactly what she was doing. Either she leaves this house tonight or I leave it.

"Karl, is your car at the door?"

Poor Karl! It took all my anger away to see his face. I knew that he was wishing with all his heart that he had never come to see me.

TOMORROW: The same letter continued—Diplomatically dismissed.

Surprise, Flirt, Flatter, To Hold Your Husband

This is the fifth of a series of interviews with professional married women on the subject of marriage.

By NEA Service

NEW YORK, July 11.—"If a woman would have her relations with her husband harmonious and pleasing, she much give him free rein," Elinor Glyn, famous romantic author maintains. "Don't begin making boundaries that serve only as an objective for him to stray from. Don't mark out lines of conduct for him to adhere to that irritate him until he loathes them."

And don't make boundaries for yourself, she cautions.

"By that I mean don't do things, or fail to do them, purely from habit or because you are too lazy to think out your own course," she explained. "Surprise yourself as well as your husband. You'll both enjoy the sensation.

"Flirt with your husband. Flatter him often, even if you have to handle the truth lightly to do so. Be a magnet always, the same ingratiating magnet that attracted him when you were engaged. Make yourself his desire, not his duty!"

This, she admits, is not always easy, but it is possible if you make the effort.

"And because you must always represent attraction and lure to your husband, don't take any chances by letting him see you at times when you are not neat and as pretty as you can be.

"There isn't a woman born who doesn't feel like slumping, physically and mentally, at times. But try to keep up before your husband. It is much more important to keep up for him than for the world at large, composed of individuals who don't care in the least how you look or feel.

"And remember this," she concludes, "men do love to be comfortable. And the old reply 'Feed the Brute' still holds good as one correct answer to women's problem—how shall I hold my husband?"

HON. GEORGE SMITH IS VISITOR IN EDMONTON

Hon. Geo. P. Smith, minister of education in the late government of Alberta, now resident in Hamilton, Ontario, was a visitor to Edmonton on Monday. On Tuesday he visited Camrose in company with his brother, Mr Norman Smith of Edmonton. He left for San Francisco last night.

KABUL NOW HAS TELEGRAPH

Kabul, Afghanistan, July 11—The first telegraph line connecting Afghanistan with the outside world has been officially opened. It runs from Kabul, the capital, to the city of Peshawar in northwestern India. Formal gretings between the Amir of Afghanistan and the King-Emperor of India, George V., were the first messages sent over the new wires.

MORE MENNONITES

LONDON, July 12.—(Canadian Press Cable)—With over 600 Mennonites on board bound for Saskatchewan, the ocean liner Scotian has left Southampton for Canada. The Mennonites were taken aboard the vessel at Riga, Letvia, Baltic republic.

It is proposed to send similar parties of emigrants to Canada at short intervals.

CALLS ON THEIR MAJESTIES

Miss D. Tyrell Lewis is one of old London's most popular debutantes. She recently was presented at the court of St. James.

Girls Plan Careers, Win Success First

NEW YORK, June 2.—Did you ever plan to accomplish something big—and have it done before you've started on your plans?

Such a pleasant circumstance is recorded in the lives of two budding female artists who had planned taking up art here and in Paris—only to find themselves steeped in success before their plans were carried out.

And to both it is an artistic, as well as financial, success.

Mabel Claire, who has her studio here and had already started her art course, is now so busy making a fortune in sculptured "Mother Goose" candles, that she finds little time to continue her studies. In fact, she's indefinitely postponed her trip to Paris and Rome, where she was to round out her artistic education.

Had to Pay Rent

A few years ago Miss Claire hadn't the remotest idea of going into business. But when she found herself in a New York studio with rent to be paid and a few orders for statues or fountains coming in, she had to get busy.

For a studio party, one day, she made some fancy candles — funny little figures, fitted into colored holders. They were so popular with the guests that she was advised to make a business of them.

"I did," Miss Claire explained. "And the day after I had put them into the hands of a wholesale dealer I received my first order, and I've been so busy ever since filling the orders and those that followed that Paris and Rome have passed right out of the picture. I've become a business woman."

And when the public gets tired of the candle dolls she's confident she'll find something else just as popular.

"Tut's Pup!"

Not so Miss Evaline Sellors of Fort Worth, Tex. Even though success has arrived before she has started on her artistic career, Miss Sellors insists she's coming to New York to study art. She won't give up her plans for all the success in the world. In fact, that's just what she wanted to carry them through.

Miss Sellors now is art student at Washington University, St. Louis. In her third year there she made plans for her New York course. But she had to have money for that. So she thought of a way—Tut's Pup!

"The idea of 'Tut's Pup' came to me after I saw some of the girls carrying Daddy Dolls and other forms of stuffed pets. Why not a dog? I thought. So I created a pup. And that's all there is to it."

But that isn't all. Miss Sellors is getting orders from all corners of the country for her pups. She can't keep up with the demand.

Yet Miss Sellors insists she still wants to take up art in New York.

JESS WILLARD GOES BACK TO FISTIC OBSCURITY

Firpo Lands Kayoe In the Eighth Round

wattle Took Place Before the Largest Crowd That Ever Attended Boxing Match—Over 100,000 Are Estimated to Have Been Present—Argentine Battler Superior

RINGSIDE, JERSEY CITY, N.J., July 12.—Jess Willard, the man-mountain from Kansas, went back to fistic oblivion tonight, but he staged the last, though futile, comeback before a vast crowd estimated at more than 100,000, the greatest in ring history, that filled Boyle's Thirty Acres to overflowing.

Luis Angel Firpo, the dark-brown miller from the Argentine, closed the door to Willard's attempted return to fistic fame by knocking out the giant former champion in the eighth round of a slashing battle—one of the greatest in recent heavyweight history.

Incidentally he reached the goal at which he has aimed for the past year of his rapid rise to prominence—a match for the title with Jack Dempsey.

There was no question of the superiority of the brilliant Argentine battler tonight. Willard's superior weight, height and reach enabled the big Kansan to check Firpo's rushing attacks in most of the early rounds, but despite the American's gameness under fire, the tide of battle swung mevitably in favor of the younger, more rugged fighter.

Firpo already gloved was the first to enter the ring at 10:06. He wore a black and yellow bathrobe. He received a good ovation as he took his corner and removed his gaudy outer raiment, disclosing himself garbed in purple tights.

Willard stepped through the ropes a minute later, wearing a pair of dark green tights and a white cord around his waist. He received even a greater ovation than Firpo.

Both received a gale of cheers as Joe Humphries, veteran announcer, informed the crowd that the Kansan weighed 242 pounds and Firpo 214. Harry Lewis of Newark, who tips the scales at 156, then was introduced as referee. Firpo and Willard posed for the camera men, then returned to their corner.

Round One

Firpo came from his corner with a rush. Willard blocked his right and jabbed with a left. Firpo landed a fierce blow to the body. He drove his right against Willard's ribs. Firpo forced Jess to the ropes and stuffed the big fellow about the head at close quarters. Blood trickled from a cut on Willard's left ear. Firpo drove home a right to the side of the head as the bell rang.

Round Two

Jess carried the fight to Firpo but missed a right uppercut. Firpo landed one r the ribs but was short with a right. The big Kansan bloated Firpo's attempts to attack his body. Willard's left side showed splotches of red from his opponent's punches. Firpo shot a hard right to the jaw but Willard countered. The boy of another wallop aimed at the same spot.

Round Three

Willard jabbed Firpo about the head at close quarters. Firpo forced Willard into corner with a body attack. Willard's one left scraped Firpo short as he tried to bore in. Willard seemed content to employ defensive tactics, blocking Firpo's powerful rights. They were sparring as the round ended.

Round Four

Willard jabbed Firpo with a left jab to the face. Firpo swung with both fists as they went into a clinch but inflicted no damage. Willard caught Firpo with an uppercut as he came in. Firpo bounded from the ropes landing a right to the stomach. He outmanoeuvred Willard about the head at close quarters, but Jess only smiled. Willard was wild with a right and a straight left. Firpo plastered about the head. Firpo rushed in with both fists landing heavily. Jess rallied and drove Firpo to a corner as the bell rang.

Round Five

Willard sent Firpo's head back with a straight left. He took a hard right to the jaw as they clinched. Firpo was short with a left. They clinched repeatedly and Firpo was blocked in his attempts to reach Willard's body. The crowd whose sympathy was obviously with Willard chorused "hurrah Jess" as the bell rang.

Round Six

Round Seven

Round Eight

Willard came out of his corn take the aggressive. He landed two light left jabs to Firpo's jaw. The latte clinched twice apparently tiring under the relentless pace he had set. But as he drew away from Willard he suddenly launched a whirlwind drive to both head and body. It was all to his advantage, as Willard's guard dropped from a jolting left. Firpo rained a volley of rights and lefts to the giant former champion's head. Willard tried to ward off Firpo's drive but his defensive tactics were ineffective. A powerful left swung to the chin sent Big Jess reeling back to the ropes. Dazed and weary he dropped slowly to one knee. He shook his head, such as a big mastiff might as the referee took the count. He tried to rise at eight but he couldn't lift his big bulk on his feet. He was lifted to his corner in a daze.

Johnson beats McAuliffe.

Floyd Johnson, of Des Moines, knocked out Jack McAuliffe 2nd of Detroit, in one minute and 47 seconds of the first round of their six-round bout at Boyle's Thirty Acres tonight as an epilogue to the Firpo-Willard fight.

One of McAuliffe's handlers sprinkled water on his back as he crouched near his corner and when Joe Jeanette, a negro pugilist, acting as referee, signified Johnson as winner, fight fans thought that he had disqualified the Detroit boxer. It was announced from the ring, however, that Jeanette had counted McAuliffe out.

Johnson, weighing 193 against McAuliffe's 196, raced into the fight at the sound of the gong. In a few seconds he had knocked McAuliffe flat on his back and the thud of his head could be heard almost on the rim of the giant saucer.

In a few seconds more the flying fighter from Des Moines punched McAuliffe almost through the ropes. McAuliffe almost through the ropes with a right to the law. McAuliffe, entering the ring, dropping to his knee, clinging to the ropes when he was counted out.

At this moment a shower of water fell on McAuliffe's back from his corner and a chorus of cries rose from Johnson's handlers, while the crowd sat aghast. At this dramatic instant, Jeanette pointed to Johnson as the victor and the fight ended.

The Preliminaries.

The first preliminary to the Firpo-Willard match, an eight-rounder between Tom Roper of Chicago and Al Bright, English heavyweight, was called shortly after 8:30 o'clock. They struggled to a draw, in the opinion of most critics, in an eight round bout, the first preliminary. Bright opened a cut over Roper's eye in the third round but he was wild and an easy target for Roper's jabs. Bright weighed 206 and Roper 189.

More than Hundred Thousand.

Tex Rickard, promoter of the Willard-Firpo bout, announced during the preliminaries that more than one hundred thousand persons were massed on Boyle's Thirty Acres to witness the battle. These figures would make the attendance for a pugilistic encounter the largest on record to date. The greatest previous crowd was 93,000 for the Dempsey-Carpentier match.

Kramer Beats Herman.

Cliff Kramer, San Francisco, outboxed and out-slugged Tiny Jim Herman, Omaha, in a slashing eight-rounder, the second preliminary.

Herman looked like an early winner in the first two rounds drawing blood from Kramer's right eye and slugging the coast boy about the ring. Kramer, despite his disadvantages of weight, came back and carried a whirlwind attack to Herman. He floored the Nebraskan twice for short counts in the sixth. He fell using Herman as he reeled to the ropes. Kramer also had an edge in the last two rounds though both appeared groggy at the final bell. Herman weighed 218 and Kramer 186.

Bout is Stopped.

A six-round bout, the third preliminary between George Weir, London, and Charles Washert, of Jersey City, was stopped in the fourth to save Weir from further punishment. Both weighed 160.

CITY PHONES WINNERS OVER A.G.T. GOLFERS

Annual Golf Tournament Takes Place at Mayfair Links on Thursday Afternoon

The annual Telephone Golf championship between the Alberta Government Telephones and the City Telephones for the Eugene Phillips Cup was played yesterday on the Mayfair course and resulted in a complete victory for the City as far as points were concerned, although the actual games were only decided in several instances at the 18th hole.

The afternoon foursomes was the games evenly divided the two sessions, the City boys having a bare lead of 1½ points at the tea hour. The evening singles, however, was disastrous for the A. G. T. as they lost a further 3½ points and were unable to register a win in any of their teams.

The City relied upon Norman Lee, T. W. Fewens, J. G. Armour, Fred Rayner and C. Brooks to carry them through to victory whilst the A. G. T. selected R. B. Baxter, A. J. Richards, Lynn Brown, W. E. Buckley, H. H. Doucette and Jack McGuire.

Although the latter were defeated in their annual clashes they do not feel disheartened as their players in three instances are more or less new at the Royal game and revenge will be sought for defeats when next July comes around.

Long Shots Again Reign at Calgary

Foul Riding Led to Disqualification of Mildred Boone, Winner of the Fifth Race—Cut in on Huma on First Turn

Calgary, July 12—Foul racing on the part of Jockey Carell in the fifth race of the fourth day's racing programme at the Calgary stampede and exhibition this afternoon led to the disqualification of the winner, Mildred Boone, with Certain Point, Winkland and Huma being moved up to first, second and third respectively, there was quite a shake-up in the money that was turned in to the pari-mutuels. Mildred Boone was the strong favorite and the price on Certain Point was $18.95 straight. Carrell cut in on Huma on the first turn. As was the case during the first three days long shots reigned supreme.

ROSS PLAYS VS P. O.

The third division game tonight between the Ross Flats and the Post Office, scheduled for the exhibition grounds, will be played at the South side park instead on account of the grounds being required by the exhibition association. The contest will start at seven o'clock.

WESLEY BEATS FORRESTERS IN GOOD GAME

Independents Trim Shiloh 8 to 5 —Game Tonight Is Postponed

Wesley defeated the Forresters 8 to 4 in an intermediate league baseball game played at Diamond Park last night. It was a snappy contest in which Wesley secured a lead in the first frame and held it to the end. Howey pitching for Wesley fanned the first three men to face him and placed the game in the cooler by knocking a home run in their half of the first with two men on base. Phil Maher also hit a home run. Max Hey pitched for the Forresters and Howey for Wesley.

Independents beat Shiloh 8 to 5 at the Boyle street grounds last night. Miller and Ward were the battery for the Independents and Wagner and Murdoch for the colored team.

The game between Wesley and the Y. M. scheduled for tonight has been postponed.

Contract forms of all players should be left at Joe Driscoll's store before 12 o'clock noon on Saturday.

Billiard Expert Will Give Exhibition at Olympic This Evening

Generally recognized throughout the country as a pocket billiard wizard, R. C. Downes has attracted a large audience during the course of his lengthy tour of the U. S. A., Mexico, Cuba and Canada. He appears tonight at nine o'clock at the Olympic Billiard Parlors, Eddie Mourier, in a series of trick and fancy shots in pocket billiards and snooker.

Mr. Downes is accomplishing a trip of 21,000 miles starting from Detroit, Michigan, June 20, 1923. Up to date he has covered 18,000 miles by auto. Mr. Downes is rated with former world's champions Hoppe and Weston and present champion Ralph Greenleaf in this particular line of play.

In Calgary at the Waverly Billiard Parlors, he gave a performance before a large crowd and the show was rated there as one of the best in a number of years. He will be in Edmonton for two days and will proceed to British Columbia. More he shows at Vancouver and Victoria, and will finish his trip at Seattle the first of the year.

Admission to the performance tonight at the Olympic is free.

Art Stanley Shows Speed in Workout

Fans Figure He Is Faster Than Arthurs, Canadian Middleweight Champion, Whom He Meets in Match at Temple Theatre This Evening—Has Excellent Record and Declares Himself to Be in Good Shape

Art. Stanley, Saskatoon wrestler, arrived in Edmonton yesterday morning for his match with Elrea Arthurs at the Temple theatre tonight. He gave a training exhibition at the wrestling headquarters in the local armor last night and created a favorable impression. Stanley will, however, not be able to make the weight limit this time. He has worked hard during the past two weeks to get down but the time has been too short. In this training work last night the Saskatchewan mat expert displayed even greater speed than Arthurs and fans who observed him are inclined to figure that the champion is in for a beating.

Stanley, during such time as he is not wrestling, operates a large farm in Saskatchewan. He finds it a prosperous one and it seems that he follows the wrestling game as much for the love of it as for the money he makes.

Good Record.

Before coming to Canada to farm he wrestled in the middle western states and on the Pacific coast. He has met and defeated Ray Simmer, the Greek Demon of Chicago, Hugo Carter, middleweight champion at that time of the coast and in San Francisco Al Anderson, who recently challenged Arthurs for a match.

There is difficulty over appointing a referee. Alderman Blatchford is out of town and another one must be secured. It seems that it is hard to get one that suits both men and is qualified. Among those mentioned for the job are Carl Johnson and Jeff Morris.

Arthurs stated last night that he is in good shape for the match and that he is confident of winning. His only regret is that Stanley could not have come to us so that it be a championship affair.

Preliminaries.

The first preliminary is between William Pulinski of Edmonton and Jack Ireland of Ireland. Those are youngsters and should give a good exhibition.

The other preliminary will bring together Johnson, the grappling barber of the Main Barber shop and Harold McMaster.

The program starts at 8.30 o'clock at the Temple theatre.

GRAIN GROWERS WILL GIVE HELP IN VOLUNTARY POOL

Every assistance to those operating a voluntary wheat pool will be given by the directors and officials of the United Grain Growers, states C. Rice Jones, managing director of the United Grain Growers, who was in the city Thursday. There was no desire on the part of the U.G.G. to control the pool, he said, which would possibly be handled by a committee or board representing the various bodies concerned, but this was a detail to be worked out. Mr. Rice Jones was quite convinced that there would be a voluntary wheat pool in operation to handle the 1924 crop.

MAKING PLANS FOR MOTOR TRIP TO JASPER PARK

With the objective of motoring to Jasper Park and return, the Edmonton Automobile and Good Roads Association has authorized its president to make full preparations. It is proposed to start on the trip August 3, weather permitting. By that time it is expected that the ties will have been removed from the abandoned grade so as to form a fairly good road as far as Edson. From there is the intention to use the old tete road to Entrance and from there the journey is a simple one. The trip will take about six days it is expected.

SURPRISES IN TRINITY TOURNAMENT

Miss Hartley Wins Her Way into the Finals of the Ladies' Singles

Excellent progress was again made in the Holy Trinity Tournaments on Thursday when perfect weather helped things along in great shape. There were one or two surprises notably the defeat of Spiderman and Gardner by Mills and Bob Campbell. Mills was particularly good and Campbell was backing him up well. Miss Hartley was the second player to enter the prize list when she won her way into the finals of the Ladies Handicap Singles at the expense of Miss Elrick. Both ladies gave a fine exhibition of real steadiness and accuracy on the back line and Miss Elrick found the point and a half too much of a handicap to overcome.

NO RELIEF NEXT WINTER FOR ABLE-BODIED CITIZENS

The Welfare board will not give relief to able bodied men next winter, according to a resolution which has been passed by this organization and which will be submitted to council for approval. This resolution was passed in view of the fact that there is plenty of work in the city at the present time, and any able bodied man should be able to lay aside sufficient to keep them over winter. It was pointed out that the city council would require a large number of men and there was also a considerable work to be carried on with the erection of the new schools and other construction work in the city.

SHANGHAI BUILDING SLUMPS

SHANGHAI, July 12.—That Shanghai, despite hard times, continues to grow is to be gathered from the report that in 1922 new buildings to the value of 18,026,000 taels were erected. This marks a falling off, however from the total of the preceding year of approximately five million taels. The report, issued by the commissioner of public works, says 2,487 new structures were erected, of which 4,262 were Chinese houses and 84 were buildings for foreigners.

A Multitude of Women Recommend It

The strongest recommendation possible for any medicine to have is the sound testimony borne by the vast multitude of women who have used it. It has been proved that 98 out of every 100 women once ill with ailments that caused suffering and despair have been restored to the joys of health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This marvelous record shows its power over the ills of women, and the letters of recommendation we are continually publishing in this paper should induce every ailing woman to try it.

Mountain-Climbing on Vancouver Island

Cameron Lake showing Mount Arrowsmith in the distance.

Just before the ends.

Vancouver Island is becoming famous for many things. Among the chief of these is its climate, among the more utilitarian its strawberries, and among the tourist attractions its marvellous scenery, and magnificent drives, its many fascinating trips both by boat and by rail. But, while tens of thousands of visitors holiday in the Island every summer, very few of them are aware of the fact that within less than a day's journey of Victoria there are mountain peaks covered with perpetual snow, and massive glaciers, which defy the warmest of the summer sunshine, where those who enjoy that most exhilarating sport, mountain-climbing, may put all of their skill to the test.

The most popular mountain from an Alpinist's point of view is, comparatively, low, it is about six thousand feet high, and to reach it one travels by one of the most magnificent scenic railways on the continent. There is a diversity of country all along the hundred miles from Victoria to Parksville. Parksville is on the east coast of the Island, and Victoria, situated at the extreme south of the Island is the starting point for the journey. One of the first summits to be crossed is that of the splendid Malahat drive, two hundred feet above the sea. Here, from the "Lookout," one looks down on a wonderful panorama of green-embowered hills, narrow winding waterways, the wide stretch of the sea itself, and the Olympic mountains on the Mainland in their dazzling dress of ice and snow. After passing the Malahat there are miles along the shores of the salt water, quick passages through picturesque villages and towns, journeys through orchard lands where cherries and apples are always a-blow with flowers.

At Parksville the road divides one branch swinging towards the west. And there begins the first trek in the journey which leads to the everlasting hills. As one nears Cameron Lake, where the tracks and the highway, one sees the beginning of the vast forest of Douglas fir, than which there is no finer stretch of timber in America.

The particular day when we made the journey was in early June. It was sweet and cool near the water, the bracken, thrusting up its fronds and tall, feather-like ferns just unfolding, all of the trees and shrubs wearing their new dresses of fresh, young green.

We started at noon, and from the very outset, found the trail fairly steep. With only occasional stops for breath, we pushed on for four hours before we made the Hut, a distance of about 3000 feet up. It was rather early in the year for mountaineering and the trail had not been cleared since the last autumn, which made our going rather more difficult than it would otherwise have been. But every step of the way displayed some magnificence of scene that called forth exclamations of delight.

The Hut was practically buried, for the snow lay deep on the upper reaches. It took us an hour or more to tunnel into it, for although our packer had gone ahead with the blankets, he could not accomplish much alone. But we finally dug our way in, cleared the snow from the windows, made a fire, and before very long the aroma of boiling coffee and fried ham filled the little cabin, and we sat down to eat with ravenous appetites.

The sleep that comes to one at these high, snowy altitudes, far above the slightest sound of life, is deep, dreamless and infinitely refreshing. We awoke at eight next morning, full of eagerness to continue the climb, which from there on is a real test of strength and endurance.

The final five hundred feet were very steep, and not without danger for the unwary. We had a few tumbles, and slides, which only added to the enjoyment, and when we had pursued our journey to the end our satisfaction was very great. For it was an objective worth striving for.

The view was grand beyond conception, snow-peaks all about it, dazzlingly splendid in the sunshine, clouds drifting from the valleys, and rolling away to reveal for a glimpse of lakes blue as periwinkle, of bare cliff-sides coloured with the tints of the rainbow, and bright, green valleys, and forests of sturdy little jack-pine, while now and then when the clouds would roll up and melt into the blue of the sky, we could glimpse a farther view, and we said it was the sea and the mountains beyond the sea, but the distance made it almost as vague as a half-forgotten dream.

It is a journey that one can easily make within the day, providing there is no miscalculation, and it is a most gratifying exhilarating climb, while the picture which the summit discloses must always stand out conspicuously in the gallery of one's memories.

NEEDED RAILWAY EXTENSION.

The Winnipeg Tribune of July 7th devotes a page to protests from boards of trade in many sections of the prairie west against the Senate's action in throwing out the National railways branch lines bill. It also published sectional maps showing some of the contemplated branches, and extensions. Amongst these is an extension of the St. Paul de Metis branch to a point near provincial boundary. This extension would parallel the Saskatchewan river on its north side and would traverse a well settled and productive territory. Settlers went into that locality many years ago with the expectation of a railway along the north side of the river from Edmonton to Battleford. They are hauling their produce to the C.N.R. line at Vermilion, Kitscoty and Lloydminster, a distance of from forty to sixty miles, besides having to cross the Saskatchewan valley and river. When the railway was completed to St. Paul de Metis they took heart in the expectation that the line would soon be built through to Battleford. The disappointment to them will be very great.

The condition of these settlements is repeated throughout the prairie west wherever National branch lines or extensions were projected. H. W. Wood with his gospel of despair has cost this country many millions of dollars in slackening of enterprise and loss of population. The Senate in its anti-railway policy has done what it could to emphasize and accentuate the conditions on which Mr. Wood bases his campaign. If the West succeeds, it will not be because of the helpful activities of either H. W. Wood or the Canadian Senate.

A SURPRISE VOTE.

Manitoba voted on June 22nd against the prohibitory liquor law. On July 11th the province voted almost as decisively against a partial return to conditions of liquor sale such as prevailed with the open bar. The two votes seem to be contradictory. And yet it cannot fairly be assumed that the people had reversed their opinions in a period of only three weeks. The second vote is a clear pronouncement against the public sale of intoxicating liquor. It is all the more emphatic, because only the milder intoxicants were to be publicly sold. The principle of restriction of personal liberty is emphatically endorsed by the second vote. The argument has been made that the only cure for the "bootlegging" of harmful liquors was the open sale of "good" liquor. Apparently that argument was not accepted by the majority of the Manitoba voters.

In view of the second vote it must be assumed that the first vote was an expression of disapproval rather of the details of the prohibitory enactment or of its administration, than of the principle of drastic restriction of trade in intoxicants. The great argument made against the prohibitory law during the campaign was its non-enforcement. No doubt many people honestly believed that not being efficiently enforcable, it should be displaced by some other method of control. That is to say, they voted not against control, but for more effective control. Strong and general exception was taken to the provision which in its effect placed the burden of administration of the prohibitory law on the members of the medical profession. The theory upon which that provision of the prohibitory law was based has been found faulty in practice. The law assumed intoxicating liquor to be a drug that should only be used if prescribed as a medicine by a practising physician. If that theory were of general acceptance the law might have been successfully operative. But many members of the medical profession—as well as other citizens—do not hold that view. It is not right that the law should place upon the medical profession a responsibility regarding law administration which that profession cannot fairly accept. In the result and speaking generally, the profession simply refused to be made a part of the machinery for the enforcement of the prohibitory law. Various members of the profession took various attitudes; but in the end the provision of the prohibitory law which permitted the sale of intoxicants only on physician's prescription was so abused that the law, and even the principle behind the law, became discredited in the public mind.

The "moderation" bill which the Manitoba electors supported on June 22nd provides for the sale of intoxicants on "permits" issued by the authorities of the province. It is quite possible that a carefully and properly handled system of "permits" might easily be more restrictive in its operation than a practically unrestricted sale under physicians' prescriptions. If the object of the provincial government is revenue, as in British Columbia, there will be no limitation on the issue of permits. But if the government of the province wishes to actually restrict the sale of intoxicants they can do so efficiently under the permit system.

The Bracken government is to be congratulated on having submitted the prohibition issue to the electors in clear-cut form. The majorities on both votes were decisive and in both cases the electors knew exactly what they were voting for. Unfortunately this is not so in Alberta. We will vote probably knowing what we want to vote for, but certainly not knowing what we are actually voting for. That will only be known after the legislature has met again and provided the legislation which the electors are presumed to have voted for before it came into existence. Considering how little regard the legislature showed during its last session to the provisions of the direct legislation act, definitely on the statute book, there can be no assurance that the legislation that will follow the vote of next November will have any relationship to the opinions expressed by the people at the polls.

"WILL."

If your hands are clean and you trust in God
Your chances are great for the world is broad.
You'll never encounter so high a hill
You can't overcome if you've got the Will.
No cloud in Life's heavens so dark you'll find
But you can discover is silver-lined.
No echo so hollow you cannot hear
The ripple of laughter in accents clear.
You can climb as high as you think you can,
There's nobody holding you back, young man.

Founds Dream Library to Probe Psychic Mysteries

CLARKE IRVINE, FOUNDER OF LIBRARY OF PROPHETIC DREAMS.

By Jack Jungmeyer
NEA Service Writer

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—"Visions," certified by fact, occur with remarkable frequency among men not professionally "psychic," according to a complication of such experiences by Clarke Irvine.

Irvine, independent investigator of occult phenomena and motion picture writer, recently founded a library of prophetic dreams, to which already hundreds of authenticated instances have been contributed from all parts of the world.

"Almost every email," said Irvine "brings records of significant dreams some true—visions by which lives have been saved, loved ones recovered or protected, deaths and disaster foretold, conduct and precautions indicated in every walk of life.

"In this repository, the first of its kind, will be filed only those manifestations which have been attested or are susceptible to proof.

Invites Contributions

"My purpose is to gather a mass of evidence upon which further provable research may be based—papers which will be open without charge to anyone genuinely interested in this profoundly beguiling subject. Such a compendium should prove invaluable to students seeking to piece occult fragments into patterns of spiritual law or whatever lies behind them."

Irvine, inviting contributions to his library at 5341 Melrose avenue, expects to issue bulletins from time to time, broadcasting a digest of material received. His interest, he asserts, is wholly that of the scientific amateur, eager to stimulate research in the field of phenomena.

Here are a few of the records the library of prophetic dreams:

PORTELLA FATHERS MURDER—Hazel Bonner, 14, in Oxford, Ala., dreamed she saw her father slain by robbers in a Cleveland (O.) restaurant, told her mother details which checked with events detailed in telegram received next morning. Frequently has dreams coming true. Harry Lesser, gassed war veteran at Memphis, Tenn., dreamed his dead father told him to go to New Orleans. Established communication with former associates and got notice to claim an estate of $213,000.

Dreams of Wreck

VISIONS TRAIN WRECK—Miss Jane Chaney, Shadyville, Ky., while on train asleep, visioned a wreck, dressed, rose per scoffing companions and walked to rear coach. Train derailed few minutes later; she uninjured.

CURES PATIENT BY DREAM—Dr. C., Uniontown, Pa., dreamed patient in a baffling case had eaten an apple years before, accidentally swallowing needle which now is answerable for trouble. Operated on woman on strength of vision and found needle just where indicated by dream.

BEER FLIER KILLED IN FALL—C. Irvine of Los Angeles, dreamed of air crash which almost cremated aviator. Next day newspapers chronicled death of Lieutenant Maurer, San Diego army flier, under identical circumstances. Also saw first aerial head-on collision night before occurrence.

SYNCHRONIZED DREAMS—Mr. E. attended gathering at Mt. Vernon, O., to witness total eclipse. Years later on train awakened from dream of that event to find moon again in eclipse. Was startled from friend few days later, saying he (latter had also dreamed of same event and had "seen" Mr. E. looking at eclipse from platform of moving car.

LEWIS ORDERS COAL STRIKE TO CEASE.

Montreal Star Sydney correspondence, July 7.

"John L. Lewis, head of the International Mine Workers' Union, has sent a wire to the heads of the miners now on strike, telling them that they had no justification for going out on strike in the first place, and had better return to work. The full text of the message follows:

"I am in receipt of your telegram sent in reply to my telegram terminating the strike of members of United Mine Workers has been in progress in District 26 since Tuesday midnight, in protest against provincial police and troops being used in interest in connection with matters regards the mining authority. Such a strike is unquestionably a violation of the existing agreement between district 26 and the coal companies' parties thereto.

"It is also a violation of the principles and policies of the United Mine Workers of America, which has a record of fulfilling its contracts and discharging its honorable obligations. The action of the district in permitting the withdrawal of members jumpmen and other maintenance men from the mines is indefensible and constitutes a wanton destruction of property. The existing agreement in district 26 was concluded by the officers of that district and ratified by a referendum vote of the majority of the mine workers affected. I previously advised you that formal complaints and protests had been lodged with the international union by coal companies affected, who ask that they be accorded good faith in compliance with agreement. In consideration of your submissions of the present astounding state of affairs prevailing within the district, I request that you, as president or district 26 together with the executive officers take immediate steps to have the men return to work so as to permit of full protection of property interest affected and an early resumption of mining operations. I will be glad to receive early advices from you indicating your full compliance with these directions.

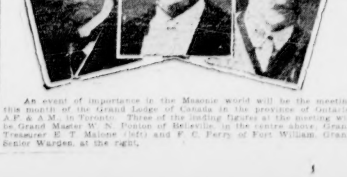
BEACH SOUTH SEAS

PAGO, PAGO, American Samoa, July 12.—The American barkentine Nawahi, manned by a company of "gentlemen" adventurers" seeking stirring life and motion picture films in the South Seas, recently arrived at Apia, British Samoa. The party will proceed for New Caledonia, the Ellice Islands, the New Hebrides, the Solomon Islands, New Guinea and Guam.

GRAND LODGE OF ONTARIO CONVENES



An event of importance in the Masonic world will be the meeting this month of the Grand Lodge of Ontario in the province of Ontario A.F. & A.M. in Toronto. Three of the leading figures at the meeting will be Grand Master W. N. Ponton of Belleville, in the centre above. Grand Treasurer E. T. Malone (left) and F. C. Ferry of Fort William. Grand Senior Warden, at the right.

Famous Bible Goes to Italy; Changes Hands

LONDON, July 12.—The famous Bible of the Horae d'Este, valued at $250,000 and belonging at one time to the late Emperor Karl of Austria, has been purchased by a rich Milan manufacturer, who outbid an American banker for it.

The Bible is illuminated by artists of the 15th century and is regarded by antiquarians as the finest specimen of its kind in existence. During his stay in Switzerland Karl, being short of money, sold the rare book to a London antiquary, who in turn disposed of it to its present owner in Italy.

MOVING PICTURE THEATRES WILL FURTHER INTERESTS

TORONTO, July 12.—Owners of motion picture theatres throughout Canada are combining to form a Canadian division of the Motion Picture Owners of America. A meeting to complete details will be held in Toronto during September. The object of the association of the theatre owners is to be able to work together along a line of mutual protection and in the matter of securing legislation favorable to the moving picture industry. Their intention, it is stated, is to combat the tendency of the film producers to gain control of the theatres, also a condition, which it is alleged will bring about, if unchecked, the making of the motion picture enterprise into a monopoly.

DECAY OF LONDON BUILDINGS TO BE STUDIED.

LONDON, July 11.—London is said to be slowly crumbling away or at least most of the historic buildings are decaying.

In an effort to ascertain the cause of this crumbling of apparently insoluble stonework, the government has appointed a committee of scientific experts to thoroughly probe the matter.

It is known that stone used in one part of the country will stand unaffected, but if used in another it will decay. This is a mystery they have to probe, and it will take considerable time, for it involves questions of chemistry, biology and physics. Among the buildings needing immediate attention are the famous Carlton Club, Tower of London, Houses of Parliament, Holyrood Castle and Tintern Abbey.

DETERMINING CAB FARES IS A HAZARDUS JOB

BERLIN, July 12.—Taximeter fares in Berlin are now seven thousand times the number of marks registered on the taximeters.

Taxicab drivers all carry printed tables showing the totals the multiple produces with various possible registrations on the indicator. Every time the multiple is changed there is endless confusion and many disputes ensue which the police are often called upon to settle.

Clocks whose dials are provided with similar tables. In every trade an agreement is arranged as to the multiple which will be used in computing the prices of articles in depreciated paper marks, as against the gold-mark price.

U.S. BUYS SHIPS

STOCKHOLM, July 13.—An order for two passenger motorships for Pacific coast service has been placed with a Gothenburg shipyard by an American company. The vessels will be entirely furnished and completed in Sweden. They will be of 3,000 tons each and will have a speed of 13 knots an hour.

This is the first order ever placed in Sweden by American firms for large ships.

Grain Markets

WINNIPEG, July 12.—With buying power lifted and traders not inclined to press sales at present levels the wheat market here today was quiet, and ranging unchanged to fractionally lower at the close. Shorts sent prices up during the early part of the day, especially in the new crop futures, but when their demand were satisfied values dropped closing ⅛ lower for July, unchanged for October and ¼ lower for December.

The market generally was a nervous affair and is becoming very sensitive to crop damage reports that are coming through. There were further reports today of black rust developing in southern Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Coarse grains showed a steady tone, but trading generally continued of light volume. There was a fair demand for oats and barley at firm to fractionally lower values while flax sold somewhat the former closing 1¾ cents above yesterday for July.

The interest in cash wheat was limited today with prices unchanged to ⅛ better. Offerings were practically nil. Cash coarse grains were dull.

Inspections totalled 281 cars of which 180 were wheat.

Chicago Livestock

CHICAGO, July 12.—Hog receipts 26,000; uneven; top 7.85.

Cattle receipts 9,000; higher; top 13.20.

Sheep receipts 8,000; steady; top 10.25.

PARIS BOURSE

PARIS, July 12.—Prices moved irregularly on the bourse today. Three per cent rentes 54 francs 10 centimes. Exchange on London 86 francs 86 centimes. The United States dollar was quoted at 18 francs 76 1-2 centimes.

DULLNESS WAS MARKED ON THE STOCK MARKET

Stocks Start off Fractionally Higher and Early Gains Are Extended

NEW YORK, July 12—Extreme dullness characterized today's stock market. Price changes, as a rule, were narrow and irregular.

Stocks started off fractionally higher and early gains were extended as a result of short covering prior to the publication of Premier Baldwin's statement in the house of commons. Business suspended while a brief statement was being published on the financial tickers and Wall street's first reaction was slightly unfavorable and continued sluggish with price changes generally unimportant.

American Car and Foundry dropped 2½ points on what was obviously forced liquidation. Baldwin mounted to 117¾.

Oils failed to make any appreciable response to the reported reduction in domestic production. Coppers were slightly firmer in reflection of a stiffening of commodity prices and an increased demand for the red metal. Steels showed little change on the day. United States Steel commonly selling above 100.

Canadian Pacific was one of the strong points among the rails.

Some of the other individual strong spots were American Agricultural Chemical preferred, Famous Players, Liggetts and Myers "B", Woolworth, South Porto Rican sugar, Vanadium steel and Pierce Arrow preferred, up 2 to 5 points.

Call money held at 5 per cent throughout the day.

Total sales 344,200 shares.

Thornton and Beatty Plead for Forest Protection

SIR HENRY THORNTON
President of the Canadian National Railways, says:

"If any man wants to add to the burdens of the Canadian National Railways, let him start a forest fire.

"The forest is a main pillar of our freight business and tourist travel. I appeal to every Canadian: 'Protect the Forests.'"

E. W. BEATTY
President of the C.P.R. says:

"A living forest means live jobs. Dead forests mean dead jobs. No man of us has any right to kill a forest by his careless acts. A minute's care may save a century of waiting."

MENNONITES CONFERENCE.

FREEMAN, N.D., July 11—Preliminary arrangements have been perfected for the national meeting of the Mennonite General Conference to be held here next month. This little town of scarcely a thousand persons is preparing to entertain between four and five thousand visitors who will attend the conference. The meetings will last a week and will be held on the campus of Freeman college, a Mennonite school.

Freeman was chosen as a meeting place because there is a Mennonite colony, Wolf Creek, near here. Take in the third such meeting to be held in the United States, members of the sect declare.

HOLSTEIN BULL BRINGS $4,100 NATIONAL SALE

One Hundred and Seventeen Animals Pass Through Ring for $70,535, Average $602

The National Holstein sale was held at Cleveland, Ohio, this week. One hundred and seventeen animals passed through the ring for a total of $70,535, an average price of $602, just about $117 higher than the 1922 average. Eleven head passed the $1000 mark and no less than three bulls brought $2000 or more each.

The Carnation Stock Farms of Wisconsin and Washington contributed the top priced animal of the sale, Avon Pontiac Echo Lad, a 4 year old son of Sir Pontiac Korndyke. His dam is De Kol Pius Begis Dixie, a phenomenal cow owned by Ralph Mondale Farm of Quebec. She has a 35-lb. 7-day record and two other short time records above the 30-lb. seat. After some spirited bidding the bull went to Tyler Waters and the Battle Creek sanitarium, both of Michigan, for $4,100.

Louis Farms, Michigan, consignment a yearling son of R.P. O.M. 40th from the famous 25,000-lb. cow Clain Marion Finderne, stood second in the prize column, going to E. M. Bain and F. B. Jones, both of Michigan, for $3,150.

You'll Get Rid of Blackheads Sure

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads. Get 5 to dissolve in a cup of hot water, two ounces of peroxide powder from any druggist and apply with a little soft cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few minutes and they will vanish, how the blackheads have disappeared. Skin specialists say this is the only way to get where they are, simply dissolve and entirely remove the blackheads, the enlarged pores and dirt and secretions that form in the skin. The whole treatment costs little more than peroxide and the water dissolve the blackheads so that you can't find them. It leaves the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

Inventor Works In Noose's Shadow

By NEA Service.

NEW ORLEANS, June 22.—Unselfish, although coldest eyes from the shadow of the gallows.

Joe Bocchio, 24, Italian poet and mechanic, sits in his cell in the death row at New Orleans Parish Prison here, awaiting the hangman's coming.

But his thoughts are not of himself. Twice the courts have decreed his must die. He protests his innocence, but accepts his fate philosophically.

Thinking of others, day after day, he bends over his blueprints, working on an invention which he believes will be a blessing to humanity in this great mechanical age.

Bocchio and five other Italians soon must pay the penalty the state exacts for the murder of Dallas Calmes, restaurateur of Independence, La. They were convicted on purely technical evidence, intervention by the federal Supreme Court is all that can save them now.

Joe contends he never was in Independence. He maintains:

That neither he nor his five companions were there on the night Calmes was slain while attempting to rout bandits looting a bank near his luncheon.

That this is a conspiracy on the part of the real murderers and their friends to shift the blame upon others' shoulders.

But to return to the invention—Joe had been in jail only a few days when he learned that Captain Archie Reanyson, prison warden, hads wide knowledge of technical mechanics. To him, Bocchio confided his secret of an electric motor upon which he worked two years prior to his arrest.

Regarding it only as another stir move on the part of the condemned man to gain sympathy, Captain Reanyson was skeptical at first.

But as soon saw Joe was sincere. He went to the district attorney and said that the young Italian be given permission to complete his invention.

Nothing could be done. The law holds no tools or implements with which he might end his life can be given to a condemned man.

So Bocchio was forced to rely solely on drawings and data. He will place these in the hands of his attorneys instructions to turn them over to his brother, of Norcera, near Milan, Italy. The brother Bocchio says, is chief electrician in the submarine division of the Italian navy.

"I got the idea," relates Bocchio, "while I was a student at the academy in Italy. I thought it over for some time, but it was not until I came to America, seven years ago that I had an opportunity to make it working model, lest I lived in New Orleans, then in Chicago.

JOE BOCCHIO

"I cannot tell you much about it, for it is not yet protected by patents, but it will operate through application of magnetism with electricity being applied less than five per cent of the time.

"Then came a letter telling of my father's death. He was chief engineer in charge f powder, alcohol and match plants of the Italian government for 22 years. I had expected to help me in getting a job on a boat, so I could work part of my passage.

"He invited me to a christening at Tickfaw. We were arrested on our way up, after our car had broken down. You know the rest of the story—what the state claims, anyway."

"If I have to die for a crime of which I am not guilty, I want to leave something for posterity to respect me for."

Bocchio also writes poetry to while away the dull hours when he is not studying his blueprints. He handed the interviewer a little piece of blank verse, entitled "Condemned."

"Take it," said Joe "as souvenir from Joe Bocchio."

Then he turned to his writing table —a steel cot—upon which the spectator of a rising gallows falls.

"My lady of death," he muses pointing to it significantly.

She will be with me on that long road which wends into the shadows But I go unafraid."

News of the District

JEFFREY

The Bulletin News Service.

The Jeffrey annual picnic held June 28th was a great success, considering the inclement weather. The dance held in the community hall in the evening was well attended. The proceeds went to help pay for the hall.

On July 1st a very interesting game was played on the ball diamond east of Jenny Adams' home. The Legal boys opposed the home team. The score was 21 to 4 in favor of Jeffrey. Hot coffee, sandwiches and cake were served after the game.

J. D. Rogers and Geo. Smith left on the 2nd on a pleasure and fruit seeking trip. They will visit with friends and relatives in Spokane, Washington and Vancouver. They expect to be gone for several weeks.

Laura and Yvonne Zorniak, district nurse from Friday from Edmonton, where they have been attending school. A number of the farmers are doing some cleaning and breaking.

The rains the last two weeks have helped the crops a great deal. The crops look the best for years. Most of the crops are insured against hail.—Jeffrey July 12.

LONIRA

The Bulletin News Service.

Miss Hazel Jones has been in the district during the past week with the Anglican Sunday School. Mission van. She is assisted by Miss Pitman of Toronto, and a good deal of organizing work has been accomplished.

The district has at last secured a license of the trade. Mr. Brenna is just having received his appointment to that position.

Quite a number of residents went to Wilcox for the picnic and report a good time.

Miss Wershof went to Edmonton for a few days while the school children enjoyed a short vacation. School is now due to fall away with a good attendance.

Charlie Crocker, of Whitecourt has secured the mail contract. By the new arrangement both incoming and outgoing mail is considerably delayed and conditions are just about what they were when the Frog Lake mail contract was in force.

Crop prospects were never brighter and in spite of the rather frequent rains the grain is looking well growing with extraordinary rapidity. The old country has had to use on the caterpillar menace seems to be doing its work.

Much new breaking is under way and several new barns are in course of erection. Every season the district takes on a more permanent aspect of progress and prosperity.—Lonira, July 12.

FROG LAKE

The Bulletin News Service.

The crops in this district are looking fine. With a continuance of the favorable weather, wheat will be in head by July 15th. Oats and barley are doing well also, while the hay is almost ready for the first cutting. There has been plenty of moisture throughout this season and sunny weather is needed now for best results.

The annual stampede was held at Lake Whitney on June 21st. Owing to the unfavorable weather the crowd was much smaller than usual. The program was not so large as last year, only four riders being entered, about 30 buckler horses were ridden. The roping contest was also good and caused lots of fun as the riders had to rope and hold a wild cow while an assistant milked her a bottle and delivered the milk to the judge. The prize was awarded to the ones who accomplished this in the shortest time.—3 1-2 minutes.

The open air bowery dance was a big swing to the heavy rain which began at 7 p.m. and lasted all night and the next day.

Mr. Nelson on the road near Ross Lake (two miles from Frog Lake) met with the misfortune of a serious accident last week. Mr. McCallum Charvin, was motoring through here with his invalid wife. This hole in the road was filled with water, and not knowing it to be dangerous he drove into it. The boy was thrown from the auto, one of his legs were broken and he was badly shaken up. They returned to Frog Lake and telegraphed for the doctor, who set the broken bone.

Mr. Charvin is the road in the municipal district and has been in bad condition all spring. There is a way of avoiding the bad spot because brush is growing out on both sides of the road and the road is quite narrow at this point.

Mr. Joe Lamoureux has rented his ranch to Mr. Darington, who has already moved in with his family.

Dance parties are held nearly Saturday at Laurier Lake. Instead of in the school house to accommodate the many tourists who spend the week-end at the lake. Mr. McCusker holds open air services. When the weather is suitable, at 8 o'clock in the evening.

There is a good crop of wild strawberries this year and a good crop of Saskatoon berries, wild cherries, etc., is promised later on. Raspberry crop is doubtful as the rabbits destroyed the bushes to a large extent during the winter. Severe spring frosts also destroyed many of them.—Frog Lake, July 11th.

BARRHEAD

The Bulletin News Service.

The death of Mrs. Bourke of this settlement occurred in the last week of June after a long illness. She leaves a husband and four young children. Interment took place in the Paddle River cemetery.

All crops are looking well in this settlement. There has been no damage from the recent frosts. There was a small hail storm near Westlock but no serious damage was done.

The bad roads of last week interfered seriously with the regular truck service. Audrios' truck and the Co-Op. store truck only made a trip each.—Barrhead July 10.

HALCOURT

The Bulletin News Service.

A few days ago were the dates the expected heavy rain came. It rained for several hours on the evening of July 2nd and again the next forenoon. It was by far the best rain of the season.

A number from here attended the sports at Rio Grande on July 2nd.

Mrs. Locke, Mrs. Chambers and Misses Ethel Locke, Rhea Chambers and Ida Locke, left are home from Grande Prairie, where the girls have been attending school.

The Halcourt Tennis club had a supper and dance at the schoolhouse on Friday, June 29th. There was a baseball game between Halcourt and Appleton, Halcourt winning by a score of eight to one.

Miss Small, the Halcourt school teacher left on Monday, July 2nd, for her home south-east of Edmonton, where she will spend the holidays.—Halcourt, July 12.

GARDENERS ENCOURAGED

BERLIN, July 12.—In order to encourage the gardening of vacant land in and about Berlin, the state railways have cut their fares in half for all city tenant gardeners travelling to and from their gardens.

It is a practice here to issue for the spring and summer small patches of acreage land for speculation and building purposes. So much of such land has been taken up by truck gardeners that there is now a complete chain of vegetable plots encircling the city, comprising about 10,000 acres. The number of persons engaged in this occupation is estimated at [illegible]
